Principal's Message

Dear readers,

I am delighted to present this last edition of our Newsletter The College Bulletin. As the year is coming to a close, it is a good opportunity to ponder over the months gone by and strive for a better future.

This fourth volume focuses on developing and drawing out the hidden talent of our students. It serves as a window to joyous and meaningful moments, reminding us of the collective efforts that make celebrations memorable.

I appreciate the team work of Magazine/Newsletter Committee who worked tirelessly to make the College Bulletin a successful venture. I also encourage my students who put their efforts in making each activity delightful. I hope we will work together as a team for College magazine in future.

Our College Newsletter provides a glimpse into the Cultural Uniqueness and Academic learning and fosters the sense of responsibilities among students. I call upon all the students to prune their potential and caliber and propel the Institution towards excellence and prosperity.

Wishing you all a very Happy New Year!
